

St. Louis Republic

St. Louis, Missouri

December 28, 1891

The Family Bulldog

He Attacked a Beau and the Young Man May Die From His Bites.

Special to the Republic

Crawfordsville, Ind., Dec 27.—James Lee of this city drove his best girl out home three miles in the country last night, after the entertainment at Music Hall. After bidding her good night and starting to return to the buggy he was suddenly pounced upon by the family bulldog and before his cries for help were answered by the inmates of the house the dog had sunk his teeth several times in his neck and face. The dog was finally beat off and Lee was carried into the house in an unconscious condition, while doctors were sent at once from this city. Lee is in critical condition and may not recover.

The St. Louis Republic. (St. Louis, Mo.) 1888-1919

<http://chroniclingamerica.loc.gov/lccn/sn84020274/>