

The Burlington Hawk Eye

Burlington, Iowa

July 16, 1887

The Boy May Die

We were informed yesterday that Clarence Leipart, the little boy who was bitten by the ferocious bull dog owned by a neighbor, on South Hill, is liable to die. The wounds, it is said, do not heal and are beginning to show evidences of gangrene. If he does die, and whether he does or no, the people of Burlington should demand the death of every unmuzzled whelp in the city. Our lives have been too long exposed to these unrestricted beasts of prey.

The Burlington hawk-eye. (Burlington, Iowa) 1882-1933

<http://chroniclingamerica.loc.gov/lccn/sn85049903/>