

The Daily Gazette
Janesville, Wisconsin
February 5, 1901

Was Bitten by a Fierce Bull Dog

Marinette, Wis., Feb. 5—Palu Brunette, a woodsman, whose home is near Duck Creek, Brown county, was terribly injured at Nathan Mich., yesterday. He was in the saloon of Erickson & Anderson. The latter have a large and ferocious bull dog. Some one warned Brunette to look out for the animal. To show his utter concern Brunette laid down on the floor beside the dog. The latter waited just a few seconds and then pounced on the man. He fastened his jaws in Brunette's throat and tore away the skin and flesh. The injured man's cries of terror brought several to the scene, but the dog by this time was infuriated and was with great difficulty dragged off. One side of Brunette's neck and part of his face was torn away, the jugular vein was also lifted out but fortunately was not torn. He is not expected to live.

The daily gazette. (Janesville, Wis.) 1894-1901

<http://chroniclingamerica.loc.gov/lccn/sn87082077/>